Origami in the Garden² (OiG2) is world-class fine art traveling exhibit and a keystone element of Kisetsu: The Year of the Island Garden 2020, celebrating our newest and Japanese-inspired “Island Garden”, a generous gift from Don and Jurate Krabill and highlighting Japanese culture and its many artistic contributions to the world through a series of special events, drop-in activities, and class offerings. OiG2 is a platform for educational programming, events, and a never-before-seen in Elkhart art exhibit expected to increase attendance and membership while providing greater exposure to Elkhart and Elkhart County. Origami in the Garden² has traveled the country, delighting and engaging hundreds of thousands of guests at gardens and many more through social media appeal and outreach. This is a great opportunity to showcase your business or organization while showing support for Elkhart’s most beautiful outdoor attraction. The summer months and early fall season are truly magical at Wellfield, and the OiG2 exhibit will be the perfect artistic complement to the natural beauty of our space. Please consider joining us in a mutual partnership that not only serves your business or organization through increased positive exposure and great benefits, but also serves to grow the community of Elkhart and furthers the Mission of Wellfield Botanic Gardens to celebrate the inseparable relationship between water and life, inspire creativity and lifelong learning, foster stewardship of our natural world, and grow community.
About Origami in the Garden²

Origami is the Japanese word for folding paper. Origami in the Garden², or OiG2, is an outdoor sculpture exhibition created by American artists Jennifer and Kevin Box that captures the delicate nature of this paper art form in museum quality metals. The exhibition features Box’s own compositions as well as collaborations with world renowned origami artists Te Jui Fu, Beth Johnson, Michael G. LaFosse, and Robert J. Lang.

Origami in the Garden² has traveled the country. Previous exhibits have been hosted at Rancho Santa Ana Botanic Garden in Los Angeles, CA in 2018, the Tucson Botanical Gardens, Lewis-Ginter Botanical Garden, and the Memphis Botanic Garden. Botanic gardens that host OiG2 have reported notable increases in their local and regional exposure as well as marked increases in attendance and membership support as a result of this exhibit.

Origami in the Garden² at Wellfield Botanic Gardens will consist of 21 unique sculptures that comprise 17 different displays sited strategically around Wellfield’s acreage. All pieces feature branded interpretive signage and there is an introduction panel for the exhibit that will contain sponsor names and recognition. Additionally, the exhibit features an 8-piece interior display called “Inside Out” which displays unfolding wall hangings and the paper models that inspired them, as well as a complimentary cell phone audio tour in which guests can gain additional insight about the pieces from the artists themselves.
